GLADIOLUS SEED--This season we saved only seed from spikes in our test garden--all are open pollinated--and all are from new varieties introduced in the past three years. Most are from 1947 or 1948 introductions or from trial seedlings grown for test. No record of parentage was kept--but all seed when picked was thrown into one grand mixture. (Packet of 15 seeds, 25¢)

GLADIOLUS SEEDLING BULLETS--Last season we offered unbloomed seedling bulbs. The demand was so great that we had nothing left to plant for ourselves except those which were very small, nothing larger than 1/4 inch in diameter. These could not be planted until after June 1, and many of them are now coming into bloom. We are so amazed at the quality of their blooms that we will plant all of them back for a second year check from larger size bulbs. We expect to plant back all of their bulblets except those few that our customers may want. Since we grew 4000 different seedlings it is not probable that any two bulblets will come from the same parent bulb. After seeing those that bloomed, we think that this will be as good an investment in garden joy as you could make. We offer these bulblets at the following price: (B 15-25¢; 100-$1.00)

Open package as soon as received. Examine your bulbs, and, if you are not ready to plant, store them in your vegetable cellar or a place where it is not too warm or too cold. All Glad bulbs must be dipped before planting in order to kill any thrips or disease that may be on them. We use Lysol. One and one-half tablespoonsful per gallon of water. Soak bulbs three hours just before planting. Any water container will do. Do not plant near buildings, heavy rooted plants such as trees, etc. Spraying and dusting for thrip, we have used the two following formulas:

DDT Spray: 2 rounded teaspoonsfuls DDT (50%) wettable; 1 teaspoonful Dreft; 2 gallons water, mix well and spray every week or ten days when foliage is about 8 or 10 inches high.

DDT Dust for thrip: 5% DDT dust and we use a roto dust gun. This is the quickest and easiest control. As effective as spraying but very much faster. We dust once in about every 10 days after foliage is 8 or 10 inches high. Do not use DDT dust on blooms as it will spot.

If you send us names of friends that grow Glads with your orders we will add extra bulbs as a reward.

These are State inspected bulbs. We try to and observe the fact that making friends is very essential to our business.

Baby chicks will be a good buy this year. Cheap feed and high prices for eggs and dressed chicken. Shipments of baby chicks safely made within a radius of 700 miles.

LEGHORN COCKERELS ARE ECONOMICAL BROILERS Farmer Friend Leghorns are large of body and are persistent layers of big white eggs that bring a premium on the market. The cockerel chicks mature rapidly, eat less feed than most other breeds, and grow into the best of broilers. As a great portion of our leghorns are sexed we are in a position to furnish large type leghorn cockerels to our broiler customers.
